January 18, 2012

The Officers' Spouses Club of Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point, a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization, is conducting its annual Time, Talent and Treasures Auction on Friday, March 16, 2012 at the Havelock Tourist and Event Center in Havelock, North Carolina. This event is a fundraising opportunity for the OSC to provide support for our military community and local organizations. We are asking businesses from the community to help us in this endeavor by donating goods and/or services to be auctioned to attendees during the evening. A portion of the auction proceeds will go directly to our charitable assistance funds.

Should you choose to participate, your business information will be listed in our professionally printed event brochure and the donation prominently displayed along with your branding during the entire auction process. This is a tremendous opportunity to advertise the quality of your product or service while sustaining the superb relationship between our military and civilian communities.

If you have any questions concerning this event, please use the contact information below. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
